Qualified Retirement Plan

Adoption Agreement
Individual Standardized 401(k) Plan
Getting Started
Once you’ve decided to establish a qualified retirement plan, the process of completing the necessary paperwork is quite straightforward. Whether you have an existing business retirement plan or this is your first plan, these instructions—with the assistance of your tax or legal advisor—will help guide you through the steps necessary to establish or make changes to your plan.

Action Required

Complete the Adoption Agreement
Review the Adoption Agreement with your tax or legal advisor, complete all requested information, and make appropriate elections where required.

- Instructional text is provided for each applicable election. These instructions are intended to help ensure your document is in compliance and that you are designing the plan to meet your needs.
- If you fail to select an option or complete an election, default provisions will apply. Each applicable default is detailed below each option or election. Make every effort to complete each option and election as the default provisions may not be the most suitable for your business.
- Complete any applicable attachments to the Adoption Agreement. These items may include the Related Employer Participation Form and the Protected Benefits and Prior Plan Provisions form. If you did not receive any of these items, please contact your prototype plan sponsor (the financial organization, third-party administrator, or other representative that provided you with your plan documents).
- Plan document amendments may also be included with your plan establishment materials. These items may or may not apply to the type of plan you are establishing; therefore, review them carefully with your tax or legal advisor. Amendments applicable to your plan may or may not require your signature.

Sign and date the Adoption Agreement
Once you have completed and approved the Adoption Agreement, you must sign and date it and then retain it for your records. You may be required to return a copy of your completed and signed Adoption Agreement to your prototype plan sponsor.

- It is your responsibility to coordinate the effective date of your plan with your signature date, and the operational implementation of the plan and/or its provisions to ensure that your plan is operated in compliance with all federal retirement law and other regulatory requirements. Consult with your tax or legal advisor regarding the date by which you must sign your plan documents.

Designate your Beneficiaries
Now that you have established your qualified retirement plan, you are ready to designate the beneficiaries who will receive your plan assets in the event of your death.

- Federal laws governing qualified retirement plans require that you receive the notarized, written consent of your spouse if someone other than—or in addition to—your spouse is named as your primary beneficiary.
- Keep your completed and signed Qualified Retirement Plan Designation of Beneficiary form in a place that you have designated for the safekeeping of important financial and legal documents. If you did not receive a form to designate your beneficiary, please contact your prototype plan sponsor.

Obtain a Fidelity Bond
Generally, every fiduciary and anyone who handles funds or other property of the plan must be bonded. The fidelity bond must cover at least 10 percent of the amount handled by the bonded individual(s). It may not be less than $1,000 and need not be for more than $500,000. A fidelity bond can be obtained from your Insurance Agent and should be in the plan's name (not the company's name).
For Employers With Employees

Provide the Summary Plan Description to Employees

The Summary Plan Description (SPD) is a comprehensive, easily understood explanation of qualified retirement plan provisions. You must complete your SPD using your completed Adoption Agreement as a guide. If you have employees and did not receive an SPD to complete, please contact your prototype plan sponsor.

- The Department of Labor (DOL) requires that an SPD must be provided to all eligible employees within 120 days of the plan’s establishment. The SPD must also be distributed to any new employees within 90 days after such employee becomes eligible to participate in the plan.
- You must also provide an SPD to each beneficiary receiving benefits from the plan on account of death or as an alternate payee pursuant to a qualified domestic relations order (QDRO).
- Complete any applicable attachments to the SPD and provide a copy to each employee. These items may include notices required for regulations (such as QDIA, EACA/QACA, and safe harbor 401(k) contributions). If you did not receive any of these items, please contact your prototype plan sponsor.

If your plan covers non-English speaking participants, you may be required to include an additional note along with the SPD. This note must explain, in the participants’ non-English language(s), their ability to obtain additional assistance from you in understanding their rights and obligations under the plan.

Provide the Designation of Beneficiary Form to Employees

If there is more than one business owner or if there are employees that will be covered under your plan, you should provide a Qualified Retirement Plan Designation of Beneficiary form to each eligible plan participant. If you did not receive a supply of beneficiary forms, please contact your prototype plan sponsor.

- Federal laws governing qualified retirement plans require that you receive the notarized, written consent of the spouse if someone other than—or in addition to—a plan participant’s spouse is named as the primary beneficiary.
- Keep all completed and signed beneficiary forms in a place that you have designated for the safekeeping of important financial and legal documents.

Next Steps

Contributing Assets

For a deposit being made at this time and for future deposits, a Qualified Retirement Plan Deposit Form must generally be completed. As applicable, forward the original copy to your recordkeeper (the individual or organization handling the administration and reporting for your plan), provide your prototype plan sponsor with a copy, and keep a copy in your plan files. Your prototype plan sponsor can provide these forms to you on an as needed basis.

- Your prototype plan sponsor and recordkeeper may allow you to transmit electronic contributions.

Consolidating Assets

You may want to take inventory of any other retirement savings you currently have. All of these types of retirement savings are generally eligible to be rolled over into your qualified retirement plan, making overall management of your retirement savings easier and less costly.

- Traditional IRA Assets
- Rollover IRA Assets
- 401(k) Savings
- Profit Sharing Plan Assets
- Money Purchase Pension Plan Assets
- 403(b) (i.e., “Tax-Sheltered Annuity”) or 403(a) Annuity Plan Assets
- Accrued Pension Benefits
- Governmental 457(b) Plan Assets
- SEP-IRA Assets
- SIMPLE IRA Assets (at least two years must have elapsed since SIMPLE IRA was initially funded)
